DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed on 29 September 2008 in response to the previous Non-Final Office Action (2 July 2008) is acknowledged and has been entered.

Claims 1-13 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. Claims 1-3, 7-11, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thomas (US PGPub 2005/0014548), and further in view of JP 2001-054612 (hereinafter JP '612). (Rejection based on machine translation)

In reference to claims 1, 2, and 3, Thomas discloses: A gaming machine, comprising: a plurality of rotatable reels, each having an outer periphery on which a plurality of symbols are provided (pg 1, par 5, display with a plurality of mechanical reels); and a cover body, formed with a plurality of observation windows, the cover body covering the reels such that the reels are selectively viewed through one of the observation windows in accordance with a condition of a game (pg 3, par 22, mechanical display and pg 3, par 28, top box display), further comprising: a first light source, disposed inside the reels to emit visible light; and a second light source, disposed outside the reels to emit ultraviolet light (pg 3, par 27 and see Figure 4, leadlines 70 and 60 respectively). Thomas does not specifically disclose first symbols visualized by visual light and symbols visualized by ultraviolet light. JP '612 teaches two kinds of patterns, one visible when ultraviolet light is on and one when ultraviolet light is turned off, one symbol is superimposed over the other. JP '612 also teaches that the symbols may be superimposed during a regular bonus game (see Figure 3 and par 16). Note that Thomas' top box display can be used to play bonus games (pg 3, par 28).

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Thomas in view of JP '612 to increase the attractiveness of a gaming machine to attract more players.

In reference to claim 7, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed. Thomas further discloses a special feature game (bonus game) that starts when a player transition from the base game is detected (pg 5, par 40).

In reference to claim 8, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed. Thomas further discloses visual notification of transition to the special feature game in the form of the Can't Lose .TM. symbol on a reel (see Figure 11 and pg 6, par 47)

In reference to claim 9, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed. JP '612 further teaches that the ultraviolet light is turned on during the bonus game, which may be a lottery (par 16 and par 51).

In reference to claim 10, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed. JP '612 further teaches a maximum number of bonus games (casting lots) to be played, the odds of winning the lottery and the predetermined pattern to win (par 36-37).

In reference to claim 11, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed. JP '612 further teaches that the symbols visible by ultraviolet light are around the peripheral of the rotation reel and are in a blank state when the ultraviolet light is not on (par 17-18).

In reference to claim 13, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed. Thomas further discloses superimposing a filter over a display (pg 2, par 15).

4. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thomas and JP '612, and further in view of JP 2002-200243 (hereinafter JP '243).
(Rejection based on machine translation)

In reference to claim 4, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed, but fails to disclose a mirror. JP '243 teaches a mirror, which provides a reflected image of the symbols (par 22).

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Thomas and JP '612 in view of JP '243 to add more paylines that increase player excitement.

In reference to claim 5, Thomas, JP '612, and JP '243 disclose the invention substantially as claimed, but fail to disclose a mirror. JP '243 further teaches a mirror position behind a display window (par 22). JP '243 also teaches the mirror maybe a half mirror reflecting symbols on the display device (par 25).

In reference to claim 6, Thomas, JP '612, and JP '243 disclose the invention substantially as claimed, but fail to disclose the first symbol as an inversion image. JP '243 further discloses that the image is reflected (inverted) onto the display device by the concave mirror (par 25).

5. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thomas and JP '612, and further in view of Schultz (US PGPub 2006/0205479).

In reference to claim 12, Thomas and JP '612 disclose the invention substantially as claimed, but fail to teach that the reels spin in different directions. Schultz teaches that the reels spin from top-to-bottom in the base game and bottom-to-top in TPT (bonus) mode (pg 2, par 17).

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention have modified Thomas and JP '612 in view of Schultz to make the game more appealing to the eye thereby increasing player excitement.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
